This is often due to histamine, a natural compound found in wine that can trigger allergic reactions in some people. Histamine is also found in many other foods, and it's a common allergen. The connection between histamine and wine is often overlooked, but it's an important one to understand if you're experiencing these symptoms. There are several ways to reduce histamine levels in wine, and there are also many natural remedies that can help with histamine intolerance. If you're looking for more information on this topic, there are many resources available online.
